Two Vendor Organizations Select Capario to Enhance Revenue Cycle Management Offerings

New contracts will enable more providers to access Capario's revenue cycle management services

Santa Ana, CA – February 2, 2010 – Capario, a leading provider of revenue cycle management solutions that connect healthcare payers and providers nationwide, today announced partnerships with two vendor organizations, AdminHealth and EHR Live, LLC.

AdminHealth, a Miami-based provider of practice management systems and electronic health records (EHR) software, will utilize Capario's revenue cycle management portal, including real-time eligibility verification, electronic claims adjudication and electronic remittance advice. EHR Live, a West Palm Beach, Fla.-based provider of open source EHRs, will also use Capario's real-time eligibility and claims management technology to complement its EHR product set.

"We are privileged to be working with these new partners who see the value in offering their providers a combination of leading clinical and revenue cycle management services," said Andrew Lawson, president of Capario. "This integrated approach will give AdminHealth and EHR Live a competitive advantage in the marketplace in addition to benefiting their provider groups. Additionally, partnering with Capario will help the vendors fulfill meaningful use standards related to real-time eligibility verification and electronic claim submissions."

As EHR vendors prepare to meet meaningful use standards and look to differentiate themselves from competitors, Capario will provide the new clients with revenue cycle management technology for integration into their existing systems for a full range of clinical and revenue cycle management tools. As a result, providers using the vendor systems will have real-time insight into transaction processes starting with eligibility and ending in reconciliation.

Capario's revenue cycle management portal enables real-time, electronic eligibility verification, claim submission and electronic remittance advice. The portal also provides detailed reports highlighting rejection and acceptance rates by payer as well as associated dollar values, allowing users to proactively identify and correct common claim mistakes.
