Angela McKenna Appointed President of the Cooperative Exchange's Executive Committee

McKenna continues to offer expertise in promoting the Cooperative Exchange's core mission of advocating electronic advancements for the healthcare reimbursement process

Santa Ana, CA – March 14, 2011 – Capario, a leading provider of revenue cycle management solutions that connect healthcare payers and providers nationwide, today announced that Angela McKenna has been appointed president of the Cooperative Exchange's (CE) Executive Committee.

The CE is the recognized authority and representative of the clearinghouse industry for healthcare information technology and other industry stakeholders. In 2009, the CE members submitted more than 2 billion unique claims from over 600,000 provider organizations, and represented more than $800 billion.

"I'm honored to serve the CE in this new capacity," said Angela McKenna, Vice President of Sales and Account Management at Capario. "The CE provides an invaluable service for the advancement of electronic data exchange for the healthcare industry. By providing benchmarks for improved efficiencies, along with advocacy and educational resources, we help improve the interoperability and transparency of the healthcare reimbursement process."

McKenna, along with the entire executive committee, will be focused on setting the organization's strategic agenda and on providing guidance for the promotion of the CE's mission of advancing electronic data exchange in the healthcare industry.

McKenna brings more than 25 years of healthcare experience to her role as well as targeted expertise in the clearinghouse industry. She joined Capario in 2006 to manage the payer, provider and vendor partner account management teams.

Prior to joining Capario, McKenna was vice president of business development for Edifecs, Inc., where she was responsible for healthcare channel partner recruitment and management. McKenna also spent 14 years at WebMD, previously ENVOY/NEIC, as vice president of corporate accounts and vice president of account management.

Capario was a founding member of the Cooperative Exchange.
